This volume is the outcome of an EU-funded international research project, titled “Creating the ‘New’ Asian Woman: Entanglements of Urban Space, Cultural Encounters, and Gendered Identities in Shanghai and Delhi,” that ran from 2013–2016. The initiative was part of HERA—Humanities in the European Research Area (12-HERA-JRP-CE-FP-586 SINGLE)—and was led by Christiane Brosius, Melissa Butcher, and Jeroen de Kloet. We are immensely grateful to HERA for allowing us to embark on this project.

HERA SINGLE analyzed the new cultural geographies of gendered urban space in Delhi and Shanghai, focusing on “single” women across their life-course, in order to understand the impact of cultural encounters in transforming social relations in the globalizing cities. This edited volume has emerged from conversations across our research team, as well as, with different scholars we encountered in course of the international workshops and conferences that we had organized: “Precariously Yours: Gender, Class, and Urbanity in Contemporary Shanghai” (Shanghai, 4–6 December 2014), “Solo-cities: Representations of the ‘Single’ in Urban Spaces” (Delhi, 6–8 October 2015), and “Sexing the City” (Leiden, 15–17 September 2016).

We are indebted to the Goethe Institut Delhi (especially Heiko Sievers, Robin Mallick, and Farah Batool), Fei Contemporary Art Center (FCAC, especially Xiaofei Li), Meta Gallery, the Rockbund Art Museum in Shanghai, and the Museum of World Cultures, Leiden (especially Wayne Modest) for enabling our experiments with different formats ranging from workshops, exhibitions, film screenings, and performances. The team members of the project made it such a wonderful experience, for which we want to thank them: Laila Abu-Er-Rub, Lucie Bernroider, Maddalena Chiellini, Yiu Fai Chow, Penn Tsz Ting Ip, Nina Nessel de Forest, and Chenying Pi. We especially thank Laila and Penn for all their work and support in co-organizing the workshops.

We want to thank the academics, artists, filmmakers, and activists who enriched our work with their contributions, and simply for the good time we have had together: Shaheen Ahmed, Sruti Bala, Brinda Bose, Luoyi Cai, Sheba Chhachhi, Paromita Chakravarti, Priyanka Chhabra, Oindrilla Duttagupta, Arunava Dasgupta, Flavia Dzodan, Shilpi Gulati, Aparjita De, Josephine Ho, Leta Hong Fincher, Lucetta Kam, Raminder Kaur, Kinneret Lahad, Lisa Lau, Walker Lee, Maizi Li, Yin Shan Lo, Fran Martin, Kevin May, Ranjini Mazumdar, Zinzi Minott, Barbara Mittler, Shilpa Phadke, Saraswati Raju, Aparna Rayaprol, Kareem Reid, and Urban Wolf, Jennifer Robinson,

This undertaking would not have been possible without the support of the HERA project funding. In addition, we are grateful for the support we received from the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF), the DLR Projektträger (German Aerospace Center), and the Netherlands Embassy and Consulates in China.
