

Contents

Introduction	1
---------------------	---

PROLEGOMENA

Mateusz Fafinski and Jakob Riemenschneider Literarised Spaces	7
Towards a Narratological Framework for Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages

NARRATOLOGY AND TEXTS

Sihong Lin Rereading Absence	27
Silent Narratives in the 'Life of Eligius of Noyon'
Sabina Tuzzo The Erotic Dreams of Penelope ('Epigr. Bob.' 36 Sp.)	41
Andreas Abele The Semantisation of Space in Sulpicius Severus' 'Vita Sancti Martini'	57

NARRATOLOGY AND LITERARY MOVEMENTS

Veronika Egetenmeyr Constructing Emotions and Creating Identities	75
Emotional Persuasion in the Letters of Sidonius Apollinaris and Ruricius of Limoges
Sabina Walter Conflicting Narratives in Late Antique Law Concerning Jews	93
Michail Kitsos Reading the Adversus Iudaeos Dialogues Through Narratology	107
Creating in Writing a Culture of Jewish-Christian Disputations in Late Antiquity

Jelle Wassenaar Townsppeople, Group Belonging, and Collective Agency in Post-Carolingian Historiography	123
Salvatore Liccardo Narrating Frontiers of Geographical Imagination Remembering Alexander the Great in the 'Peutinger Table'	143
Reuven Kiperwasser and Serge Ruzer Aramaic Stories of Wandering in the High Seas of Late Antiquity	161
NARRATOLOGY AND THE META-LEVEL
Philipp Margreiter Soldiers of Rome? Ein Forschungsnarrativ über die Haßleben-Leuna-Gruppe und dessen Entstehung	181
Rutger Kramer and Ekaterina Novokhatko Dead Authors and Living Saints Community, Sanctity, and the Reader Experience in Medieval Hagiographical Narratives	205
Kate Cooper Meaning and Believing in a Narrative A Coda	227
Index of Places	233
Index of Persons	237